For Dallas, it's go time.

January 30th, 2009 · No Comments

The Dallas Art Fair is only one week away and we are working long hours (with plenty of coffee) to make sure we make a splash. In addition to a selection of 5x7s and a model of our new building project, we'll be exhibiting works from the Collectors' Circle Print Program, which you can view online in our new Collectors' Circle Print Gallery.

To get prepared we've been taking inventory of all the prints of prior years. As a development intern, I've been tasked with bringing out the gloves and making sure we're clear on our numbers.

While most of the available prints were commissioned in recent years, we were able to uncover some remaining gems, such as the last available print by John Alexander, produced in 1995.

For information about Arthouse member discounts, symposia packages, or to RSVP for the Michael Duncan tour, please contact Benjamin Slade via email, or by phone at 512.453.5312 ext. 29

We hope to see you in Dallas!

This is Lauren, signing off.
