

Select Images – “Finding Frida” Symposium

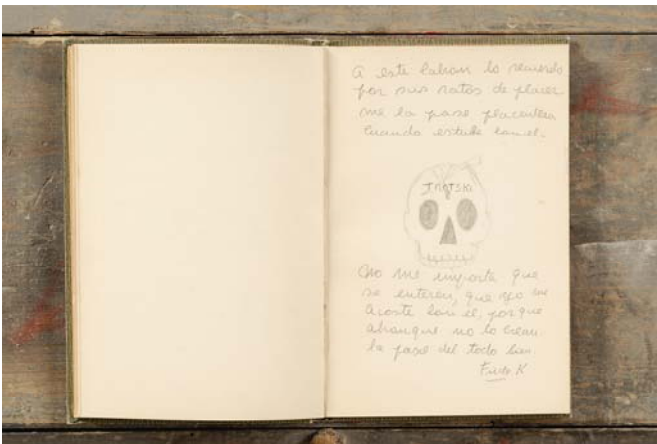

Images courtesy of the Carlos and Leticia Noyola Collection
San Miguel de Allende, Mexico

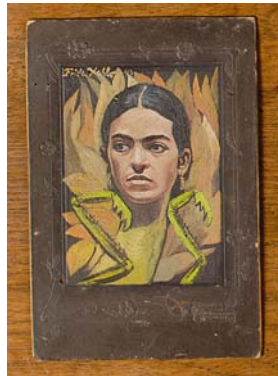

Suitcase said to have belonged to Frida Kahlo

Half skeletal head of Frida Kahlo
Oil on cardboard, 19 x25 cm

Drawing of skull with an ice pick labeled “Trotsky”
Graphite on paper
The caption reads, “I remember that bastard for the moments of pleasure. I had a good time when I was with him. I don’t care if they find out, that I slept with him, because although they don’t believe it. I had a good time. Frida K”

Frida Kahlo with mantis legs
Oil on cardboard, 19 x 25 cm

Bleeding head of Frida Kahlo on a pedestal
Oil on painter's palette